PRODUCT CARE

DUSTING

Don't avoid dusting furniture. Frequent dusting removes airborne deposits that build up in a filmy layer and can scratch the surface.

Clean, dry, soft cloths or feather dusters will effectively remove dust; however, to avoid scattering the dust into the air, where it floats until landing back on furniture surfaces, dampen the cloth very slightly.

CLEANING

Never use all-purpose cleaning sprays unless your furniture has a plastic coating, such as the kind used on kitchen tables and children's furniture.

You'll usually want to avoid cleaning wood with water. However, sticky spots may need to be treated with soap and water. Here's how: dip the cloth in mild soap or detergent dissolved in water, wring the cloth nearly dry, and wipe the area. Rinse and immediately dry with a clean, soft cloth.

Oil polishes, cleaners, and furniture oils protect wood by making the surface more slippery; they do not offer a hard protective layer.

WOOD CARE

Note varying shades of colour and grain along with features such as wood knots are normal and are to be expected as wood is a natural product. To ensure longevity wooden furniture needs to be protected from extreme temperature swings, heat and moisture.

Please pay attention to the following recommended steps.

No matter how strong and sturdy a piece looks always move it with care by lifting instead of dragging and carefully placing it down. This will preserve the integrity of the joints and prevent splitting.

Avoid placing wooden furniture next to a source of heat or direct sunlight as this can cause dryness and cracking of the wood. Prolonged exposure to direct sunlight will also result in colour fading and discolouration.

Maintain oak furniture by periodically treating it with special furniture oil. Once every 3 months is sufficient to prevent cracking and to create a moisture resistant layer. If a piece of furniture is exposed to daily wear and tear such as a table then treat it with furniture oil once per month.

Never expose furniture to water, cleaning agents, coffee, wine, fruit juices etc. Ensure any spills are immediately removed.

Never put hot items such as dishes or pans directly onto the wood. Use place mats or table mats.
